

Opal Enriquez is a philanthropist, entrepreneur, and advocate for literacy and women's empowerment whose work bridges communities across Belize and the United States. As President of the Foundation of American Belizeans, she spearheaded the Reading Room Belize Initiative, which successfully launched its first literacy center at Wesley Upper School in Belize City—providing students with access to books, technology, and reading resources that have already transformed classroom engagement and literacy outcomes. Building on that success, Opal and her amazing team are now leading the development of a second center at Eden SDA Primary School in Santa Elena, set to include a STEM lab and creative learning spaces designed to inspire the next generation of Belizean innovators including children on the autism spectrum.

Beyond her philanthropic efforts, Opal is the Founder and CEO of Opal's Glow Skincare and Self-Care Company, a holistic beauty brand rooted in authenticity and self-love. Through her line of all-natural, ethically sourced skincare products, she empowers women of all ages to embrace their natural beauty and prioritize self-care as a form of self-respect and healing.

Opal's work embodies her belief that true transformation begins from within—whether through nurturing the minds of children in Belize and beyond or helping women around the world rediscover their confidence and glow.
